Standard Notice: “Right to Receive a Good Faith Estimate of Expected Charges” Under the No Surprises Act

No Surprises Act: Under Section 2799B-6 of the Public Health Service Act, healthcare providers are required to give patients who don’t have insurance or who are not using insurance an estimate of the bill for medical items and services, both orally and in writing. These “Good Faith Estimates” of expected charges are given upon request or at the time of scheduling healthcare services.

You have the following rights:

- To ask your healthcare provider, and any other provider you choose, for a Good Faith Estimate before you schedule an item or service.
- To receive a Good Faith Estimate for the total expected cost of any non-emergency items or services in writing at least 1 business day before your medical service. This includes related costs like medical tests, prescription drugs, equipment, and hospital fees.
- To dispute any bill that is at least $400 more than your Good Faith Estimate.

Make sure to save a copy or picture of your Good Faith Estimate.
